Hancock County To Observe 10th U. N. Birthday

On Monday, October 24, the entire United States will celebrate an anniversary that is of world-wide importance. For, ten years ago, on October 24th, 1945 the United Nations was founded and in the ten years since its inception it has shown a civilization grown cynical and despairing through years of bloody warfare, that there is hope for a world of peace and friendship, built on the ideals of tolerance and understanding.

Bay St. Louis will join with the countless cities, towns and hamlets in the United States in celebrating this day. Throughout the country, there will be various methods of celebration; radio and television will carry programs showing the United Nations in action, talks will be made on its accomplishments during the last decade and other talks will concern its hopes and aims for the future. It will be a day set aside from the ordinary run of days, dedicated to one of the greatest ideals that man has cherished for the last twenty centuries.

Our local program will commence at 8 p. m. Monday evening in the auditorium of Bay High. The main speaker will be Mrs. C. C. McDonald, whose interest in and knowledge of the United Nations assures her audience of a most stimulating evening. School children, wearing the native costumes of the member nations, will serve as ushers and will distribute literature on the United Nations. The Bay-Waveland Garden Club will present a tree, with a plaque dedicated to the United Nations as an act of faith and belief in the future, a tree which will be planted on the grounds of the post office, to grow as a symbol of that faith and belief.

The public is invited to assist in making this a great evening, for themselves, for their town, and for their country.

The League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis and the United Council of Church Women are jointly presenting this program.

Christ School Children Enjoy Field Trips

Continuing to take advantage of October weather for its program of educational field trips, the Episcopal Day School last week took one group of children to Gulfport to visit the Colonial Bakery and another group to the Bay-St. Louis Fire House to observe its fire-fighting equipment.

Kindergarten and first grade classes, accompanied by their teachers and five mothers, toured to Gulfport on Tuesday morning and enjoyed a picnic lunch on the beach at the West Side Community House before keeping their appointment at the Colonial Bakery. There the group was shown the entire story of a loaf of bread from the time the flour is measured until the loaf comes out of a big oven and is sliced and wrapped. Each child received a pencil and a balloon as mementos of the trip.

On Friday, in observance of Fire Prevention Week, students of the third grade were given an opportunity to see at first hand the city fire-fighting department and its facilities. The children were particularly interested in the explanation of the alarm system and in the contrast between the old and the new fire engines.

Mr. Henry Crutchfield, employee of the L. & N. Railroad suffered a severe compound fracture of the leg when struck by an automobile early Monday morning.

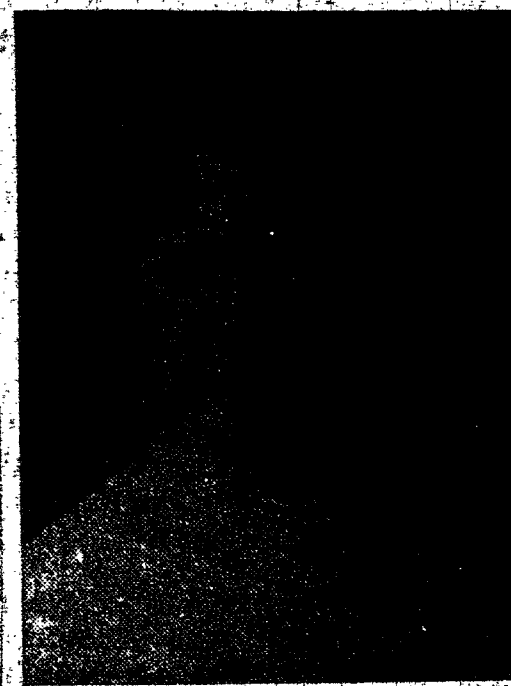

He was making the crossing at Second Street, on a handcar, when hit by a Plymouth Station Wagon driven by Johnny Benigno of Bay St. Louis.

Mr. Crutchfield was immediately rushed to Kings Daughters Hospital, where he was administered first aid and then transferred to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport.

Complete The Job

To date, the Youth Center has received the sum total of $45.00.

That's right, three checks in the amounts of $25.00, $10.00, and $10.00.

The City of Bay St. Louis and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors will donate approximately one-half of the amount needed to continue the operation of the Youth Center. With the amount already collected, it will leave a balance of about $750.00.

We don't think seventy-five cents (.75) will break any one of you. If 1000 people in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County would drop 75c in an envelope and mail it to the Youth Center, care of Walter J. Gex, Merchants Bank Bldg., the job will be completed.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the welfare of your children is worth that seventy-five cents.

Training Course For Scout Leaders To Start Monday

There will be a training course for scout masters, committeemen and anyone interested in scout work, starting this Monday night, October 24, 7:30 p. m. at the REA Bldg., on Main Street and Highway 90.

The course will last for three consecutive Monday nights and end up with an outdoor session on Sunday, November 20.

The course will be conducted by L. S. (Doc) Elliott, Leadership and Training Chairman of the Bay-Pass District of Boy Scouts, and its purpose is to instruct scouters and committee men on their duties as scouters.

The men will be taught to instruct the boys and will participate just as boys in such activities as camping, tent pitching, cooking, first aid, fire building, etc.

Jimmy Foss, New Orleans field representative, will be on hand each night and will show slides on scout activities through 18 years of age.

Aid Red Cross
Christmas On The High Seas

"At this time of year any talk of Christmas seems pretty far fetched," says J. Cyril Glover, chairman of the Hancock County Red Cross Chapter. "And, yet, planning is essential at this early date if we are to remember men and women in the nation's armed forces who find themselves aboard ship next December 25."

Chairman Glover's remarks were made in connection with an announcement that the local chapter will participate in the traditional Christmas-on-the-High-Seas program again this year. This project, while sponsored by the Red Cross, is made possible by other organized groups over the nation, which contribute gifts for distribution to troops and ships' complements at sea on Christmas.

At the same time, he called on all civic, religious, and social groups in the community to plan now to participate in the program.

"This traditional Red Cross service offers an excellent opportunity for these organizations to undertake a worthwhile project," Mr. Glover said.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Saudier and daughter, Neize, motored to Ocean Springs Friday.

Notes

USE HEAT LAMPS SAFELY
Infra-red heat lamps, now in wide use throughout Mississippi for brooding of baby pigs, turkeys and chickens, are sometimes a source of danger to the stock.

While the 250-watt R40 bulb, most commonly used, comes in deep red, hard glass, or clear, regular glass, most farmers buy the cheap or one-regular glass. This bulb breaks more easily.

Here are some rules to follow to reduce danger of breakage of these lamps, and reduce danger of injury to livestock.

1. Hang lights from a light chain of wire so that they cannot fall.

2. Protect bulbs with deep reflectors so that they cannot come in contact with water or other substance that might cause breakage.

3. Suspend the lamps at a height where livestock being brooded cannot reach them.

Use porcelain sockets or lamp holders instead of brass ones. Use rubber covered cord to connect; brooder lamps, and make sure that excess cord is taped up out of reach of livestock.

No more than six 250-watt bulbs should be connected on a 15-ampere circuit. By all means, follow the manufacturer's instructions in operation of the lamps and connecting them.

POULTRY
Rats and baby chicks just don't miss. One rat has been known to kill as many as 200 chicks in just one night.

Besides killing the baby chicks and older birds too, rats will eat and waste more feed than the chickens will.

Rat-proof your poultry houses. Rid your farm of rats. Get your neighbors to cooperate with you in riding entire communities of these disease transmitting, feed wasting, poultry killing "vermin."

Se your county agent for information on rat eradication and newest chemicals to use in your rat program.

IMPORTANT IN MISSISSIPPI!

What is it?

Sardis Dam in Panola County is the nation's largest earth-filled dam. Like Arkabutla, End and Grenada dams, this is part of extensive flood control work in Northeast Mississippi. The large lakes formed by these dams are also gaining favor as recreation spots.

there's no doubt about the importance of the beer industry in Mississippi. Wholesalers and retailers have a $29 million investment here... employing over 16,295 Mississippians... and the beer industry is the fourth largest taxpayer in the State, paying over $4 million a year. It is largely through public acceptance of legally regulated beer, on the beverage of moderation, that beer has grown in importance to Mississippi.

Don't Let Dust And Dirt
Rob You Of Light!

In the course of a few weeks enough dirt and dust can accumulate on your lamp bulbs and lighting fixtures to rob you of much of the light you are paying for. Even though the dust and dirt is not apparent, it can still cut down the efficiency of your lighting.

If you operate a store or shop the increased lighting you will get from cleaning bulbs and fixtures, and replacing dead bulbs, will help your customers and help your sales.

If you are a housewife the increased lighting will make your home safer, your work easier, and will save precious eyesight.
